QUESTIONS & ACTION STEPS

- Why do you believe there is relational conflict that leads to disruption?
- How do you see God using the disruptions in our life to direct His plans for tomorrow?
- Do you think at times you have been sent into a disruption? Why or why not, and what do you believe you should do when you find yourself there?
- What might be a way to help you take the healthy pathway as opposed to the unhealthy pathway?
- Why is restoration so important in our lives and, specifically, our relationships?
- Share how you believe that God works out His purposes even when people are doing their worst. (Use other places in God's Word to support your answer.)
- Why do you believe relational disruptions, conflict, and the like lead to grief?
- In what other stories in Scripture can you find God providentially working, guiding, and controlling situations for His glory and our good?
- Share how you believe that God has providentially worked in your life.
